AXA CEO
THOMAS BUBERL:
Climate Leaders
Don't Insure New
Oil and Gas

DEAR MR. BUBERL,

Climate scientists agree: we cannot afford to build any new oil and gas projects.

"We are expected to lead on climate, not to follow", you said earlier this year, "this is the meaning of our 'Climate Leadership' commitment."

You have shown climate leadership before and taken decisive action on coal. But climate leaders don't underwrite the expansion of oil and gas production. Please follow the science and rule out any support for new oil and gas projects now!
