RECLAIM FINANCE
Junior Analyst - Financial institutions’ climate and fossil fuels policy
5-to-6-months internship - Paris

We are looking for a dynamic and passionate individual who is eager to contribute to accelerating the decarbonization of finance.

- Your main mission will be to research, analyze and evaluate sectoral policies (coal and steel, oil and gas, sustainable energy) adopted by international financial players.
- You will be supervised by an internship tutor and work closely with the entire Research & Analysis team, and with the campaigner’s team.
- The internship - lasting 5 to 6 months - is ideally available from September 2023.

About us

We are a fast-growing European NGO focused on the crossover between finance & climate justice, based in Paris. Launched in 2020, Reclaim Finance has already emerged as a go-to organization on climate-related financial issues.

Affiliated to Friends of the Earth France, we aim to make the financial sector work for a sustainable society. In the context of the climate and biodiversity emergencies, one of Reclaim Finance’s priorities is to accelerate the decarbonization of financial flows. Our method to get there: to snatch wins, one by one.

Reclaim Finance exposes the climate impacts of financial actors, denounces the most harmful practices and pressures financial institutions to stop them. With our own pragmatic approach, we know how to build alliances with other players and put our expertise at the service of financial institutions and political decision-makers who wish to transform their existing practices in line with ecological imperatives.

Main responsibilities:

- Inventory sectoral policies (coal and steel, oil and gas, sustainable energies) adopted by international financial institutions.
- Evaluate and analyze existing sectoral policies according to the methodology developed with our international partners.
- Contribute to updating the Coal Policy Tool and the Oil & Gas Policy Tracker, to discussions on methodological changes to the tools (scope, criteria, etc.) and to the development of new analysis tools.
- Participate in exchanges with financial institutions to better understand their policies, how they are applied, and share our analysis and recommendations with them.
- Participate in the writing of detailed analyses, blogposts, and a briefing about sectoral policies.
- Collaborate with campaign managers and our international partners in the dissemination of our evaluation tools, and support them in building their respective campaigns.
• Contribute to research and analysis on energy and finance topics (renewable energies, decarbonization targets, etc.).
• Contribute to the activities of the Research & Analysis team, to the life of Reclaim Finance and to cross-functional projects.

About you

• Training in finance, economics, political science, engineering, or another relevant field (minimum 4 years' higher education).
• Basic knowledge of finance and/or fossil fuels.
• Rigorous, meticulous, organized and able to learn quickly.
• Ability to work in team and integrate into a collective project.
• Very good level of English (read/written/spoken); elementary French, a third language is a plus.

Moreover, you share Reclaim Finance's mission and values, and are concerned by environmental issues.

Conditions of use

• Internship lasting 5 to 6 months; available from September 2023.
• Position based in Paris (3rd arrondissement), with the possibility of teleworking 2 or 3 days a week (under certain conditions, 100% teleworking may be possible).
• Coverage: 50% transportation card and 60% luncheon vouchers
• Paid internship: €800 net/month;
• Full time: 35 hours.

Please send your CV and cover letter before June 28, 2023 by e-mail to recrutement@reclaimfinance.org, indicating "Junior Policy Analyst" in the subject line. The association reserves the right to close the recruitment process before this date.
